Intrado has a master database in Boulder, Colorado, which we send daily updates through service order process that populate the four 911 BellSouth ALI databases located in the BellSouth region. BellSouth operates two sets of mated ALI databases for redundancy and diversity:

1. Databases located in Birmingham, AL and Brentwood, TN (Nashville) serve AL, KY, LA, MS, and TN
2. Databases located in Miami, FL and Charlotte, NC serves FL, GA, NC, and SC

REQUEST: 1. For each ALI database operated by your company, please identify:

REQUEST: 1. For each ALI database operated by your company, please identify:
c. the type of interface that your company has installed, or will install, to support passage of Phase II information to the PSAPs (e.g. E2, E2+, modified PAM).

RESPONSE:

The BellSouth Interface to E2+ messaging is fully described in the Intrado document ALI to MPC Interface Specifications for TCP/IP Implementation of TIA/EIA/J-STD-036 E2, Issue 1.1, June 2001.

REQUEST: 1. For each ALI database operated by your company, please identify:
d. The routing solution(s) that the interface will support (e.g., NCAS wireline compatibility mode).

RESPONSE:

BellSouth's implementation of the Interface to the E2+ will support Wireline Compatibility Mode as defined in J-STD-036 Annex D, table D.1.1, the NCAS Mode as defined in J-STD-036 Annex D, table D.1.2, and the BellSouth Hybrid NCAS Mode, a variation of D.1.2 using the BellSouth WLS911 interface to the Nortel DMS100 selective routers.

- REQUEST: 1. For each ALI database operated by your company, please identify:
- e. The dates by which:
    - i. Any necessary database upgrades will be completed;
    - ii. The interface will be available for any necessary testing with CMRS carriers, PSAPs, or third party vendors; and
    - iii. The interface will be available for launch of live E911 Phase II service to consumers.

RESPONSE:

- i. All database upgrades were completed by July 30, 2002.
- ii. The BellSouth Interface to the E2+ is currently available for testing with CMRS carriers, PSAPs, or third party vendors and has been available since August 1, 2002.
- iii. Since August 1, 2002 the BellSouth Interface has been available for to the E2+ Interface. The live E911 Phase II launch is conditioned upon successful testing of the individual Carrier's Interface device.

REQUEST: 1. For each ALI database operated by your company, please identify:
f. If unable to identify any of the dates specified in (e), the specific reasons for such inability.

RESPONSE:

BellSouth is ready to launch live E911 Phase II service to consumers at the completion of successful testing between CMRS carriers, PSAPs, and third-party vendors. Testing dates are currently being negotiated.

REQUEST: 2. For each ALI database operated by your company, specify:
a. the type of data each database will be capable of receiving (e.g. longitude and latitude, confidence factor, uncertainty factor, address information)

RESPONSE:

The BellSouth ALI databases will currently receive and store longitude and latitude, confidence factor, uncertainty, and address information.

REQUEST: 2. For each ALI database operated by your company, specify:
b. The format in which your company expects to receive data (i.e., what data fields will be used and which data fields will be required in each field)

RESPONSE:

BellSouth has implemented the Intrado version of the Interface to the E2+ which is based on Revision A of the J-STD-036 with the ability to support an extended length Loc-ID field of up to 500 characters. The E2+ messaging interface is fully described in the Intrado document ALI to MPC Interface Specifications for TCP/IP Implementation of TIA/EIA/J-STD-036 E2, Issue 1.1, June 2001.

REQUEST: 2. For each ALI database operated by your company, specify:
c. whether the database will be capable of requesting updated location information (i.e., refresh capability)

RESPONSE:
The BellSouth Interface to the E2+ is capable of requesting updated location information when requested by the PSAP.

- REQUEST: 3. Identify the manner in which your company expects wireless carriers, public safety entities, and/or third party vendors to interconnect with the ALI databases and selective routers your company operates (e.g. specific trunking and messaging requirements). In particular, please:
- a. Specify whether specific trunk ordering procedures are in place.
    - i. If so, indicate the standard interval for delivery of trunks (measured in business days).

RESPONSE:

Interconnection to the ALI database requires the wireless carriers and/or third party vendors to order point-to-point or frame relay circuits from the MPC to the ALI databases. These circuits can be ordered directly from Interexchange Carriers (IXCs) and will be provisioned based upon that IXC's standard delivery interval.

Interconnection to the selective router requires the wireless carriers to order Centralized Automatic Message Accounting (CAMA) trunks and/or FGD trunks from the MPC to the selective router. The specific trunks ordered will be provisioned based on the carrier's option of Phase II, of either, the NCAS solution or the wireline compatibility mode. Trunk ordering procedures are available in the E911 Wireless User Guide. The standard interval is 30 business days for delivery of trunks.

Third party vendors do not interconnect with our selective routers.

Public safety entities connect to our selective routers using Emergency Reporting Center Trunk (EMNT/C) type CAMA trunks that they purchase when they order their 911 services pursuant to the 911 State tariffs. This tariff also includes the ALI database connectivity that uses digital data circuits provisioned over the BellSouth network. The standard interval from the time a PSAP orders 911 service is approximately 12 to 18 months; during this time the selective router trunks and the ALI database circuits are provisioned.

REQUEST: 3. Identify the manner in which your company expects wireless carriers, public safety entities, and/or third party vendors to interconnect with the ALI databases and selective routers your company operates (e.g. specific trunking and messaging requirements). In particular, please:
b. Specify whether Emergency Services Routing Key (ESRK)/Emergency Services Routing Digits (ESRD) policy or assignment procedures are in place.

RESPONSE:

Yes, ESRK/ESRD assignment procedures are in place. Wireless carriers must provide ESRK/ESRDs from their assigned telephone numbers and ESRK/ESRDs must be geographically correct for the selective router that will be receiving the ESRK/ESRD and performing selective routing to the PSAP.

REQUEST:

Explain how the costs for upgrades to facilities operated by your company (e.g. ALI database, selective router, trunking) necessary to support wireless E911 will be recovered (e.g. through tariffs, contracts or other arrangements). Please specify whether the mechanism for recovering these costs is currently in place, or if not, when it will be in place.

RESPONSE:

The costs necessary to upgrade the ALI to ensure it can receive the XY information and translate it into a format the PSAP CPE can accept also include all changes made to the database to accommodate the additional phase II information. These costs will be recovered from PSAPs pursuant to the BellSouth General Subscriber Services Tariff for Extended ALI, under a one time, non-recurring charge. The status of each State tariff is as follows:

State	Filing Status	Tariff Reference
Alabama	Tariff in effect 8/12/2002	GSST A13 Wireless E911 Phase 2
Florida	Tariff in effect 7/16/2002	GSST A24 Wireless E911 Phase 2
Georgia	Tariff pending – anticipated effective date 9/10/2002	GSST A24 Wireless E911 Phase 2
Kentucky	Tariff in effect 8/12/2002	GSST A13 Wireless E911 Phase 2
Louisiana	Tariff in effect 8/1/2002	GSST A13 Wireless E911 Phase 2
Mississippi	Tariff in effect 8/8/2002	GSST A13 Wireless E911 Phase 2
North Carolina	Tariff pending – anticipated effective date 9/3/2002	GSST A24 Wireless E911 Phase 2
South Carolina	Tariff in effect 7/31/2002	GSST A24 Wireless E911 Phase 2
Tennessee	Tariff in effect 8/16/2002	GSST A13 Wireless E911 Phase 2

The costs associated with the interface device and associated software is recovered from the wireless carriers through the Wireless Carrier Interface Agreement. These charges are associated with the interface device that is necessary for the wireless carriers to deliver the Phase II data into the ALI database. The costs are limited to those interface devices, also known as E2, the carrier specifically needs which enables the carrier to meet its' mandate. The interface devices utilize software that includes a pANI table and an E2 table that alerts the wireless carrier to deliver the XY to the ALI database. These tables are populated by the wireless carrier for their own use and are specifically designed to let each wireless carrier know when to deliver the XY to the ALI database.

There are also costs associated with the router ports to each of the 4 ALI databases that the Mobile Positioning Center (MPC) providers' use in connecting the interface devices to the ALI databases. These costs include the costs of those routers, and the maintenance and monitoring of the interface device on a 24x7 basis. The non-recurring and monthly recurring fees are recovered through the Wireless Phase 2 MPC Operator Interface Agreements.

Both, the Wireless Carrier Interface Agreement and the Wireless Phase 2 MPC Operator Interface Agreements are currently being revised. We expect to have the revised agreements available by September 16, 2002.

REQUEST:

Identify any other requirements necessary to launch wireless E911 Phase II service.

RESPONSE:

There are no additional requirements to launch wireless E911 Phase II service.
